

CORPORATE PROFILE

ROC Systems (Pvt.) Ltd. commenced trading in June 2012 and the company is currently privately owned by Mr. Robert Stokes and Mr. Ernst Barnard. The company is based in Chinhoyi, but services many customers across Zimbabwe.

Currently our main line of operation is the manufacture of Tobacco Curing Tunnels, called the Ecotunnel, which is available in 5 sizes capable of curing 20, 28, 36, 42 or 38 Ha crops in a single planting. These units can also be used to cure up to 2 further crops in a season when the separate crops are planted at monthly intervals.

Other innovative product lines that we service include grading sheds, structures, Chromadek roofing, heat exchangers, grain dryers, pulverised coal burners, wet-bulb controllers, tobacco trollies and trailers. We are also involved in many general engineering jobs of various description.

ROC Systems currently employs a total of 44 staff comprising 2 directors, 4 managers, 38 workshop staff encompassing welders, painters, electricians, drivers and various others. All of our staff members are employed in developing, manufacturing and delivering the highest level of farming services and products to agricultural professionals nationwide.

In conclusion, the various products and services that ROC Systems offers is continually changing & expanding as we develop new technologies and strive to be the most innovative agricultural solution provider in Southern Africa.

